Covenanter November 2026 Minister's Letter

Dear Friends,

Do you like a maze? In the Wattlot household, mazes and stepping stones are, and always have been real favourites and greeted with excitement when we are on holiday. The beech hedge mazes in Hazlehead Park, Aberdeen and Kingennie, Angus are certainly popular. The maze in the grounds of Dumfries House is my personal favourite, mostly because of the reward of encountering the lily pond and very lovely little pagoda house entered by crossing a tiny bridge over the pond when you eventually find the middle of the maze.

More recently maize mazes have become popular on farms which host visitors. Their attraction is the tall fronds of the plant and dappled shade from the sun and for the farmers, the fact that when the visitors are done for the season, the mature plants can be harvested and used and the field made ready for a new crop.

More recently, we've found some labyrinths in landscapes, a variation on a maze and perhaps less challenging as you can still see other people and scenery around you as you walk the paths of a labyrinth. There is no danger of becoming physically lost in a labyrinth, perhaps only lost in your own thoughts as a labyrinth is designed to encourage reflection and pondering as well as walking and imagination.

Last month the online congregation Sanctuary First had a prayer labyrinth on the Sanctuary First app. A labyrinth can be set up inside, in a large room, a hall and even on a large cloth or a sheet of paper. During September we visited the Touchstone Labyrinth in Blackmuir Woods near Strathpeffer. It's made from paths marked out by 81 large rocks sourced from quarries all over Scotland, very different geologically yet together make up a remarkable pattern which maps out in the shadows cast by the rocks, the rising and setting of the sun and moon during the astronomical year.

Yet, this month I am reminded of these low paths among the hedges of the mazes and the rocks of the labyrinth and their similarity to the trenches of the fields of war which must have seemed like dreadful labyrinths to the weary, cold and hungry soldiers in them, longing for their homes, firesides and families.

This month is the month of Remembrance and our time to honour all those whose names are on our war memorial and those who remain in our hearts. This month is a time to renew our prayers of thankfulness for their sacrifice, and thankfulness that because of them, our country was never invaded and occupied. During this month, as you walk, remember the freedom that we enjoy as we walk. Remember the honour that we demonstrate for our fallen and wounded in all our acts of kindness, compassion, duty and love and how we can so easily dishonour what they wanted for us, with every act of selfishness, waywardness, conflict and indifference.

Jesus told his friends and followers, I have come so that you may have life in all its fulness, just as the Father wants for you. We do this by believing in his promises and walking in Jesus' word and way, not a maze where we are on our own and cannot see around the next corner, but the straight paths of life we feel ahead of us when we walk with Jesus Christ and put all our trust in Him.
The stepping stones stories will have to wait for another month!

May the Lord bless you and keep you

Fenwick Church Guild

The Guild held an Afternoon Tea on 29th September to which friends and members of other Guilds were invited We were entertained by the "True Colours" Group and they certainly entertained us well with all the old 1960's numbers. It was reckoned that nearly everyone in the hall was singing along with the Group and Rose and Nan even got up to jive. Their dancing later led to some other brave souls dancing the Slosh and even our Minister was on the floor for this. After a round of applause for the Group and the dancers we settled down to enjoy a wonderful afternoon tea followed by a raffle. At our meeting on 24th November we will hear all about "Mary's Meals", a charity founded in Argyllshire and now with a worldwide reach serving meals to more than three million children daily.

Moscow SWI

Moscow SWI and friends welcomed Ayrshire footballing legend Rose Reilly to the Hogg Hall, Galston on Monday 5th October. Rose spoke about her upbringing in Stewarton, the many barriers that were put in her way to stop a girl playing football and her career in France and Italy that culminated in her representing Italy and being crowned as the best female footballer in the world.

In more recent years her footballing ability and her determination to improve the lot of the female footballer has seen her awarded an MBE and she has been inducted into the Hampden Hall of Fame. Throughout her talk, her determination and resilience, as well as a wicked sense of humour, shone through.

Rose kindly judged the afternoon's competitions :-
Truffles 1 H Green, 2 C Taylor, 3 L Watson.
Orange coloured item 1 M Cunningham, 2 M Lawrence, 3 A Borthwick.

Helen gave the vote of thanks and Vanda and Catherine served the tea and cakes. The Moscow SWI ruralympics team, Lily, Catherine, Anne and Marilyn, won the Ayrshire competition and are all set for the final in Dingwall (with Marilyn being replaced by last minute substitute Morag), good luck to them on their journey north.

The next Moscow SWI meeting will be on Monday 2nd November at the Hogg Hall, Galston, when Jean Shaw will demonstrate dry felting. The competitions are 3 pieces of lemon slice and an article in yellow

Little Churches

These will be collected during the week beginning 2nd November - 9th November

We are re-opening The Fenwick Church Hall, Paton Room as a Warm Space Café from Tuesday, 3 November.

We will be opening every Tuesday between 12 -4 pm as a Community Cafe. The weather is getting colder and we all know that the cost of living is still rising. Fuel prices haven't gone down since last winter and once again too many people are having to choose between heating and eating. Reduced spending money also means that people are going out less as they can't afford to, and that leads to an increase in loneliness and isolation, particularly for people that live on their own.

As you know, community is very important to all of us at Fenwick Church and we are always looking for ways to use this lovely space to the benefit of everyone. The heating is on from the moment we come in so we are already paying for it, so we thought why not share it with everyone else? We are registered as a Warm Space and with an organisation called Warm Welcome to make sure we've thought of everything and are offering the right services with our Community Cafe.

At our Community Cafe there is no obligation to buy or do anything if you don't want to. If you want to come in and read the paper or your book in peace, you are more than welcome. If you fancy a chat, our team are always happy to join in or to introduce you to other visitors. We have a range of books, board games and crafting supplies that are free for you to enjoy. If you fancy a hot drink and a snack we have tea, coffee and homemade soup and toasties available and we'll also be offering cakes and biscuits you want a treat. We have free wifi so you can come and work from home here if that suits you.

Everyone is very welcome to join us - we have plenty of space for pushchairs and buggies, and there's a changing table with nappy-changing supplies always available for free in the Ladies toilets. There's good wheelchair access as well.

We know it can be daunting for some people to come on their own but we want to reassure you that there will always be a warm welcome, and we will do everything we can to make sure you feel at home here. So please do come along, stay warm and banish the winter blues at Warm Spaces Community Cafe.

FENWICK COMMUNITY INITIATIVES

Dear Neighbours,

KGV Playing Fields – Project Update

Following our recent letter, we wanted to give you an update on progress at the KGV Playing Fields. Unfortunately, this is not the news we had hoped to be sharing, but we feel it is important that everyone in the village is kept informed.

Drainage works delayed by ground conditions

Due to the wet weather we have experienced recently, the field is simply too saturated to take the machinery needed to cut in the new drainage. As a result, the contractor has not been able to progress with this part of the works.

We know that many will ask why the work cannot go ahead regardless. The answer is that cutting in drainage while the ground is in its current state would be a waste of resource and money, for the following reasons:

Damage to the field. Heavy machinery on waterlogged ground causes deep rutting and compaction. This damages the very ground the drainage is intended to improve and would leave us with a worse surface than we started with.

Poor quality drainage. Trenches cut in saturated ground can smear, slump or fill with water before the drainage pipe and stone can be properly laid and backfilled. Drainage installed in these conditions is unlikely to perform as designed, which defeats its purpose.

Work that would need to be redone. Any damage caused would need to be repaired and reinstated, with the field re-levelled and the drainage potentially re-laid once conditions improved. This means paying twice for the same job in contractor time, fuel, plant hire and materials.

Machinery and safety. Plant becomes bogged down in these conditions, which slows progress, increases the risk of breakdowns and creates safety concerns for those working on site.

What this means for seeding

The new grass cannot be seeded until the drainage is complete, so the drainage works and seeding are directly linked. The contractor will periodically check the field to assess whether conditions are suitable to cut in the drainage, with the aim of having it completed in time for seeding in the Spring. We will keep you updated as this progresses.

Fencing

The contractor will keep the fencing in place until the field is complete. We appreciate that this is not the best news to be receiving, especially for residents whose homes overlook the field, but this is out with our control and is necessary to keep the site secure and the ground protected.

This project has been made possible by grant funding and the hard work of our community, and it is our responsibility to make sure every pound is spent wisely. Pressing ahead now would risk poorer results at greater cost, which is not in the best interests of the village.

We are very sorry for the delay and for any frustration it may cause. Unfortunately, we cannot control the Scottish weather, and this is something that neither FCI nor the contractor can influence. Our priority is to deliver a high-quality playing field that will last, and that means working with the conditions rather than against them.

Fenwick Gala Day

We have reached out to the Gala Committee to explain the situation. They had already been considering this possibility and are looking at other areas in the village to ensure that Gala Day continues. We are grateful to the Committee for their flexibility and their commitment to keeping this much-loved event going.

We will continue to update the Friends of Fenwick Facebook page and the community noticeboards as the project moves forward. Should you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to speak with one of the FCI Trustees, who will be happy to assist.

Thank you again for your patience, support, and understanding.

Kind regards,

Bible Stories for Younger People - The Good Samaritan

One day a man who knew the law stood up to test Jesus. He asked, “what must I do to have eternal life?”
Jesus answered, ‘Love God with all your heart and love your neighbour as you love yourself. Do that, and you will live.”

But who is my neighbour?” asked the man

Jesus replied, “A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho. Robbers attacked him. They stripped off his clothes and beat him. Then they went away, leaving him almost dead.

A priest happened to be going down that same road. When he saw the man, he passed by on the other side. A Levite also came by. When he saw the man, he passed by on the other side too. Both these men lived nearby.

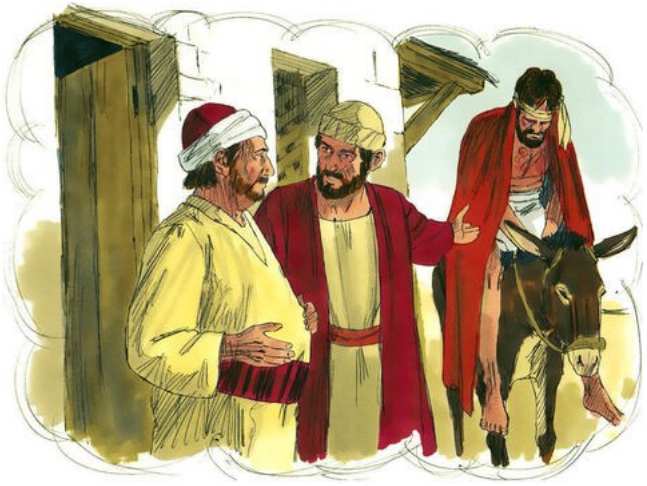
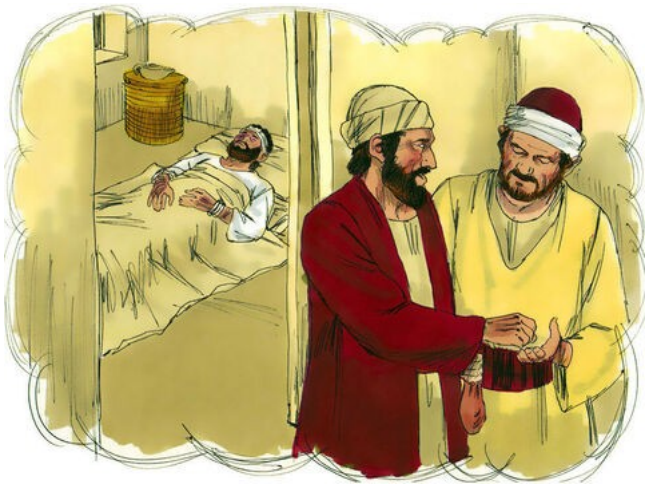
A Samaritan (someone who came from Samaria – another country) came along. When he saw the injured man, he felt sorry for him. He went to him, poured olive oil and wine on his wounds and bandaged them. Then he put the man on his own donkey.





He brought him to an inn and took care of him

The next day he took out two silver coins. He gave them to the owner of the inn. ‘Take care of him,’ he said. ‘When I return, I will pay you back for any extra expense you may have.’

“Which of the three do you think was a neighbour to the man who was attacked by robbers?” asked Jesus
The man who knew the law replied, “The one who felt sorry for him.”

Remembrance Sunday is the 8th November

Each One

Each one of us is but a speck
A tiny grain of sand
A wave upon the ocean
A note played by a band
Where does it go once it is heard -
Into the air above?
Or does it float unto the realms
Of Heaven, filled with love?

Each one of us is that sweet note
A moment heard in time
A part of something beautiful
A melody sublime
And it can linger in your heart
To comfort and console
You cannot see or hold it
But it can touch your soul.

Each one of us is from the Source
A petal on a flower
A pebble in a rushing steam
A second of each hour
So use your time here wisely
For what you leave behind
However long or short your time
Contributes to mankind.

FENWICK GARDEN CLUB

We had a change of speaker at Fenwick Garden Club when Stephen Ingles kindly stepped in, at short notice, to present a talk about 'Bird Friendly Gardening'. He mentioned that all the gardens in the UK cover 1 million hectares, so even if we all play a small part in encouraging wildlife into our gardens, we can make a big difference.

He mentioned planting shrubs and trees with fruit and berries to give the birds plenty to eat, leaving our grass slightly longer or planting a variety of grasses to encourage invertebrates, giving insects and bees somewhere to live by leaving deadwood and fallen leaves and putting up nest boxes. He said that one of the best ways to encourage a wide variety of wildlife was installing a pond, big or small, in your garden.

He didn't know that at our next meeting one of our members will be talking about how she did exactly that! Also, we will have other members talking about Beekeeping and making Christmas decorations with natural materials.

If these topics interest you, please come along to our next meeting on Thursday 19th November.

Fenwick SWI

Nora Shanks (President) welcomed members to the October meeting and introduced our speaker for the afternoon, Stephen Inglis who had worked with the RSPB. Stephen's talk and slides were based on his Aunt and Uncle's farm of Sheildhill. We were all amazed at the amount and variety of wildlife, birds, insects and fauna to be found on the Fenwick Moor and there were lots of questions for Stephen which he ably answered.

Competition winners:-

Bird Ornament 1st Nan Younger 2nd Nan Tivendale 3rd Edith Muirhead
Jar of Jam 1st Aileen Picken 2nd Norma Barr 3rdJean Bowes

Next meeting is in the Church Hall on Thursday 12th November at 1.30pm and will be a Christmas wreath demonstration by Jean Brown. The competitions are "Gardening Tip" (prize) and "A Houseplant" (Sylvia McCutcheon Memorial Rosebowl).

The “Annals of Fenwick” was written in the 19th century by James Taylor – a Fenwick weaver. It was a journal of local events and folk. See an excerpt below.

“1842 – Two characters

20th February – died at Kirktown, Mr Hugh Hopkin, shoemaker, aged 80. His sister, Jean, died 24 hours after. For a long time, they had lived together. Both were remarkable characters in their way, Hugh, for his rhetorical powers, his general information, his political liberality and his love for polemical controversy - Jean for her love of gossip.

For a long time, their house had been a resort for folk to go to and hear the news. Hugh had a knack for telling a story and many thought the news more entertaining when they heard it from him than when they read it for themselves.

Two more odd characters are not left in our village. They were always up early in the morning, having their breakfast ready at 6 o’clock. Jean was never overly nice, particularly in her cooking department. She had a practice of dishing the parritch, (porridge) new on top of the old and she took care that they always had some left

Dr Currie, once on paying a visit to Hugh when he was unwell, saw Jean at her wonted practice. He told her that if she continued to do that, she would kill Hugh.

“Deed, no,” says Jean “Hughie’s gotten his parritch a’ his days that way, ye see, an’ it ne’er did him any ill.

Jeanock, as the auld wives about the Kirktown called her, never lost much of her time in washing dishes. Nevertheless, they were hale and hearty to within a short time of their death.”
